Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my interest in the Front-End Developer position at your organization. With a solid background in developing user-focused, scalable web applications, combined with professional experience in both agency and in-house roles, I am confident in my ability to contribute effectively to your development team.

At Core-x Design Inc., I worked closely with marketing, design, and SEO teams to build dynamic, responsive websites that aligned with strategic goals. My role included developing advanced features, implementing testing and debugging processes across browsers and devices, and using Git for source control in a collaborative environment. Prior to that, at One Contact Center, I was responsible for creating SEO-optimized landing pages, configuring CMS platforms like WordPress, and managing website hosting through cPanel and FTP systems.

My technical toolkit includes HTML, CSS, Sass, Bootstrap, JavaScript, and jQuery, which I've used to craft clean, accessible UIs. I also build performant, maintainable front-end applications using React.js, Next.js, Tailwind CSS, and MUI. Whether deploying applications via Vercel or working within agile teams, I bring a detail-oriented, solution-driven mindset to every project.

What drives me is the intersection of design and functionality—translating ideas into polished digital experiences. I take pride in writing clean code, optimizing for performance, and staying current with front-end best practices and trends.

I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my skills and experience can support your team. Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to speaking with you soon.

Sincerely,
Romel Custodio
